Excess Casualty Insurance for Hospitality and Entertainment Construction

Offering higher limits and custom coverage, our excess casualty insurance helps safeguard against the substantial liabilities and unforeseen events that characterize the evolving landscape of hospitality and entertainment construction projects.

Why Do You Need Excess Casualty Insurance for Hospitality and Entertainment Construction?

Whether you're building a hotel or theater, BCS has the expertise and experience to provide coverage solutions for your hospitality and entertainment projects. Our coverage offers that needed layer of protection for your business to confidently navigate the complexities of your projects.

Berkley Construction Solutions excess casualty insurance is a strategic asset that offers:

Comprehensive Protection: Hospitality and entertainment construction projects are key to building a vibrant service economy in metropolitan areas. Our excess casualty insurance solutions, written on a follow form basis, are designed to provide continuity of coverage.

Higher Limits for Enhanced Protection: The legal environment is uncertain and the financial stakes are high. We offer significant limits — up to $25 million — ensuring your business is adequately protected against costly, unexpected events.

Dedicated Construction Claims Expertise: Construction claims are big and require expert oversight. That's why we handle our claims in-house rather than via a third-party provider. Our direct-handled approach ensures continuity, clarity and efficiency which are all critical components in managing claims in a volatile and uncertain environment.
